Meeting Minutes:

- Sabrina Lane and Jane Cramb presented on Wyoming 211. The recording of their presentation can be found here.
 - Resource Repository: Wyoming 211 is a database that lists numerous resources that are available in Wyoming.
 - Action Items: The workgroup is asked to reach out to organizations and resources that they frequently use and ask those partners to register with Wyoming 211. We need to work on increasing the number of resources listed on Wyoming 211 as many of the smaller organizations may not be aware of this service.
 - If you'd prefer, Wyoming 211 said that if we send them a list of the resources and organizations that we commonly use, they could also do the man hours and reach out to get them registered for us. If you are interested in that option, please send Star your resource lists or contacts and I will compile them into a master list for Wyoming 211.
- Strategic Planning
 - Please review the strategic planning document and provide any updates on the objectives and goals outlined. The living document is linked above in the meeting resources section.
- HealthyU Cancer Track workshop
 - Stephanie DuPape with Wyoming Cancer Resource Services mentioned the HealthyU Cancer: Thriving and Surviving virtual workshop will be held April 19th at 4pm. More information on the specific workshop can be found here.
 - For more information on HealthyU workshops in general, visit UW's website here.
- Continuing Education
 - Dawn from the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society shared that she has created a list of continuing education classes related to cancer, including patient navigation and social work. The list can be found here.

Email Template for Partners

The Wyoming Cancer Coalition's survivorship workgroup is working to increase access, awareness, and availability of the resources statewide for those impacted by cancer. In partnership with Wyoming 211, the workgroup would like to create a centralized repository with up to date information to help patients and navigators find relevant information quickly and easily.

In order to accomplish this goal, we are asking for organizations who provide a service or resource to register with Wyoming 211. Registration is free and is updated annually. Please visit <https://wyoming211.org/providers/> to register today.

I'd like to personally invite your organization to complete your registration today. If you're already registered, please take a moment to confirm your information is updated and accurate.
