

WYOMING CANCER COALITION

The Wyoming Cancer Coalition (WYCC) is made up of stakeholders from various sectors committed to decreasing the burden of cancer in Wyoming. The coalition works together to promote and implement the Wyoming Cancer Plan by coordinating efforts across the state.

Coalition members include cancer survivors and caregivers, non-profit and volunteer organizations, healthcare providers, public health professionals, and others who come together to align their efforts and leverage their resources to meet WYCC's mission.

As a member of the WYCC, you would play an important role in collaborating and coordinating on activities outlined in the state-wide Cancer Control Plan, ensuring the plan represents the many areas of cancer and the people of Wyoming, participating in workgroup activities and projects, attending in-person meetings held twice a year, contributing information and local cancer-related events to the monthly WYCC newsletter, and recruiting other potential members.
